This is a document reporting on the severity of the protection impacts on the civilian population as a result of ongoing conflict in Sudan. Clashes between the Sudanese Armed Forces (SAF) and Rapid Support Forces (RSF) erupted on 15 April 2023 and are now in their thirty-fourth week.

Deaths and Injuries:

- On 1 December, the Armed Conflict Location and Event Data (ACLED) project reported that over 12,190 people have been killed due to the conflict. Actual figures may be higher with communications challenges and ongoing violence inhibiting systematic reporting.
- Since the fighting started, 20 humanitarian workers have been reported killed and 33 have been reported injured. The actual number of aid workers killed and injured may be higher as systematic reporting is inhibited by a range of factors.
- On 6 December, the GBV sub-cluster and service providers reported receiving surging reports of cases of gender based violence including sexual violence, particularly affecting IDPs fleeing conflict areas and those in their homes while looting takes place, as well as increased numbers of domestic violence cases.
