

Global Protection Cluster Community of Practice: How to Use Guide

What are the main features of the GPC Community of Practice?

- The GPC Cluster Coordination page is a dedicated space for protection cluster coordinators, AoRs, sub-coordinators, and co-facilitators. This closed space is where technical and policy discussions as well as field experiences are shared to improve, enhance, and consider innovative approaches to protection response.
 - A log-in name and password are required to access this page. If you have not received log-in details please email us at (Gpc@Unhcr.Org). If you wish to participate, please click on the “Registration” button and follow the instructions to receive your log-in details.
- Field Practices: Stories and practices from the field allow us to hear directly from the protection clusters and other protection actors about the practical challenges and opportunities they face and how they handle specific projects in the field. These stories and practices offer windows on the richness and complexity of work in the field.
- Exchange: We know that exchanging experiences, sharing practices and guidance developed across operations can be extremely useful and a request that we regularly receive from a considerable number of field operations. The GPC Exchange space is a forum for colleagues to share their questions, knowledge, and to engage in collaborative problem-solving.
 - To post your question or share your experience, click on the "Post a question" tab to ask the community for advice on challenges you've had in your day to day work, questions on training, information on best practices or a broader humanitarian challenge that you'd like your colleagues' input on.
 - You can also utilize the search option to look through everyone's questions and challenges or use the "View All Conversations" tab to respond to the questions that you have experience with. In this space you can share your expertise and input with comments, votes, and additional questions. You can also upload videos, photos, and presentations.
 - A log-in name and password are required to access this page. If you have not received your log-in details please email us at (Gpc@Unhcr.Org). If you wish to participate, please click on the “Registration” button and follow the instructions to receive your log-in details.
- Exchange- Arabic: We know that exchanging experiences, sharing practices and guidance developed across operations can be extremely useful and a request that we regularly receive from a considerable number of field operations. The GPC Exchange space is a forum for colleagues to communicate in Arabic, share their questions, knowledge, and to engage in collaborative problem-solving.
 - A log-in name and password are required to access this page. If you have not received your log-in details please email us at (Gpc@Unhcr.Org). If you wish to participate, please click on the “Registration” button and follow the instructions to receive your log-in details.

- Resources: The Global Protection Cluster has numerous documents, best practices, and training material available. We’ve identified five main themes of the most important resources to share across the community. These themes include legal instruments, IASC guidance, GPC guidance and thematic round table discussion papers. On the Resources page, you will find up-to date and reliable information on protection work, guidance, policies, as well as external reports. This page is open to the public and is updated on a regular basis. You can also share reports that you find interesting.
- Protection Challenge: The protection challenge will be launched in the upcoming period. In the meantime if you have feedback on challenges faced in the field, please send us an email at (Gpc@Unhcr.Org).

Joining a Team on the GPC Community of Practice

Collaborating around a question

If there is a question that you want to collaborate on as a team within one of the Exchange spaces – you can invite team members or request to be a part of the team that helps solve or discuss the question.

- Step 1: Click on the question that you are interested in collaborating around.

The GPC Exchange is a forum for colleagues in the Global Protection Cluster to share their questions, knowledge, and to engage in collaborative problem-solving.

How to collaborate:

- Post a question: Use the "post a question" form to ask the community for advice on challenges you've had in your day to day work, questions on training, information on best practices or a broader humanitarian challenge that you'd like your colleagues' input on.
- Share your experiences: Look through everyone's questions and challenges below or in the "View All Conversations" tab, and respond to the questions that you have experience with. Share your expertise and input with comments, votes, and additional questions.

Expert Review:

- Experts will review the top questions and provide input into the protection space. Questions that have been answered will be archived once they have been considered "solved" into a knowledge management and FAQ page. However, if a question is generating a lot of interest from the community, it may be chosen to be launched into a global protection challenge.

Priority
High

I am based in:
Europe

Overview of situation:
At the onset of an emergency or in protracted situations, the need for robust protection analysis is paramount to inform targeted protection response. The use of tools to collect and analyse information is considered key for enhanced protection response.

What type of advice, support, or collaboration do you need?
I'd like different recommendations of tools that are already in use, whether they are new or best practices in the field.
