Purpose of this factsheet:

This factsheet aims at contributing to the quality implementation of humanitarian cash for protection for Ukraine and the region that is presented in the Humanitarian Response Plan (HRP) and in the Regional Refugee Response Plan (RRP), as published on 15 February 2023. As a reminder, in support of the respective national governments, the coordination of the HRP is led by OCHA, while UNHCR leads the coordination of the refugee response.

HOT TOPICS AND QUESTIONS OF THE MOMENT

Inside Ukraine:
- How can CVA (Cash & Voucher Assistance) be used to support evacuations?

Outside Ukraine:
- Are the amounts made available to Ukrainian refugees as part of national protection schemes sufficient to meet their basic and protection needs?

Inside and outside Ukraine:
- What is the difference between Cash for Protection, Emergency Case Management and Individual protection assistance?
- What type of information on children should and should not be collected at enrolment stage, considering data protection risks? (Ex: birth certificates)
- Should the CVA assistance still be limited to 3 months?
- Closure of community centres - how to ensure a protective shelter and environment for families?
- What would the implications be of setting more restrictive selection criteria for cash assistance?
- How to mitigate existing/future protection risks associated with lack of available and affordable shelter options?
- How can agencies best support foster families with CVA?
- How to estimate the value of protection top ups in CVA calculations?
- How to set up referral mechanisms between CVA and Protection teams that are safe from a data protection perspective?

CWG - Transfer Value Revision, August 2023 [EN/UK] (link) - MEB as of August 2023 (link)
Humanitarian Country Team (HCT) decision: Presented with this analysis on 17 August, the HCT endorsed the Cash WG recommendation to raise the transfer value to 3,565 UAH per person per month and to provide 100 per cent of the gap to the newly registered caseloads, starting on 1 October 2023. For operational purposes, the value was rounded up to 3,600 UAH per person and per month.

CWG - Terms of reference for Inclusion, Gender, Gender-based Violence and Accountability to Affected People Task Team under the Cash Working Group of Ukraine (link)
- In the current humanitarian system in Ukraine, especially regarding cash and vouchers, there is limited operational and technical guidance that addresses cross-cutting considerations, including communication with the affected population, gender-based violence, and disability and gender inclusion.
- This task team replaced the accountability to the affected people task team and the Gender-based Violence (GBV) task team under the Cash Working Group (CWG) in Ukraine.
- This came after the decision to change the terms of reference of the Cash Working Group (CWG) based on partner-identified priorities.

CWG - Emergency Multipurpose Cash Assistance Guideline (as of 28th of August 2023) [EN/UKR] (link)
The purpose of this document is to provide the foundation and direct the actions of multiple responders to work towards a common goal through establishing standard guidelines for using MPCA to respond to different emergency situations in coordinated manners.

Thus, the objectives of this Emergency MPCA Guideline includes:

- To provide the definition and thresholds of the emergency, and under what conditions an emergency response is initiated.
- To define roles and responsibilities of the participating organizations during an emergency response.
- To set up communication and reporting channels for the ease of coordination.
- To outline the coordination mechanisms for the response.

MPC targeting and coordination in emergencies: Questions were also raised on whether MPCA is the appropriate modality for such emergencies, considering Protection and Shelter cash that could be better equipped for these situations in responding to needs/or in complementarity to MPCA. Some partners pointed out that it makes sense that these cases are better placed to be responded to by Cash for Protection as it gives more flexibility to respond to needs beyond MPCA. Others pointed out that MPCA is a quick modality to react to people’s needs while waiting for the other types of cash. Partners also pointed out the importance of coordinating with Shelter and Protection clusters and the local authorities to avoid duplication of assistance and ensure better referral pathways. The possibility of a joint guideline CWG-Shelter-Protection was suggested.

Affordability remained a key issue, as 52% of customer Key Informants (KIs) reported price increases as their main financial barrier to accessing goods, with the highest percentage (74%) reported in the North. In addition, the North accounts for the largest share of retailer KIs expecting a rise in supplier prices and a decline in customers’ purchasing power as major challenges in the coming months (94% and 81%, respectively).

While the cost of the full JMMI basket remained the same at the national level from June to July (1186 UAH), there was a notable increase (16%) in prices in the East, due to increase of price for NFIs, and especially diapers. More specifically, in Donetsk oblast, 50% of retailer KIs reported price increases for each item in the full JMMI basket. Overall, the food basket remained the most expensive in the North, particularly in Chernihivska oblast.

Cost of JMMI basket in Ukraine

Financial services
In July, 75% of customer KIs reported the full availability of bank branches offering all their services, compared to 66% in June (Figure 18). The percentage of customer KIs reporting the full availability of functioning ATMs remained unchanged since June, amounting to 90%. Nationwide, 83% of customer KIs reported that Ukropsha offices worked daily and provided all of their usual financial services regularly, a notable increase from the 72% reported in June.

This is an overview of key protection risks in Ukraine based on the Protection Cluster’s revised Protection Monitoring Tool (PMT). The revised PMT is built upon 14 protection typologies, including: safety and security; right to life, physical and mental integrity; liberty and movement; civil status and documentation; protection issues for elderly persons; protection issues for people with disabilities; social cohesion; gender-based violence; child protection; housing, land and property; standard of living; access to remedies; return and displacement; trafficking in persons. The PMT was launched at community (hromada) level and information presented in this document reflects data collection completed by protection partners from 1 January to 31 August 2023 – based on more than 10,203 Key Informants (KI) interviews in 1047 communities (hromadas) in 24 oblasts of Ukraine.

Ukrainians face challenges ahead of the 2023/24 winter season due to a combination of factors, including damage to residential and non-residential infrastructure, internal displacement, elevated levels of humanitarian needs, and cumulative damage to energy, water, and heating infrastructure. Vulnerability to winter-related hazards is particularly high in “cold spots” - geographic areas where winter-related hazards compound with high levels of exposure, susceptibilities, and estimated lack of coping capacity.

Overall level of need:
- Overall findings indicated that the level of humanitarian needs across the assessed settlements in GCAs remained mostly ‘moderate’ or ‘limited’ (see Annex on p7). However, areas closer to the front line, as well as areas retaken by the Government of Ukraine (GoU), reportedly experienced a higher level of need.
- Protection: In Zones A and B, active hostilities and close proximity to the front line continued to impact the safety and security of civilians in their daily life. KIs in three quarters of the assessed settlements (74%, n=207/281) highlighted the threat of a missile attack among the main safety and security concerns.
- KIs also reported that some groups of people in the settlement were less able to meet their everyday needs, including returnees (reported by KIs in 40% of the assessed settlements, n=112/281), people who had been directly harmed by the ongoing violence (34%, n=96/281), pregnant and lactating women (16%, n=46/281), and female-headed households (12%, n=34/281).

Access to financial services:
- Overall, the findings suggest a slight decrease in the share of assessed settlements where KIs reported that most people had not had access to cash, banking services, and ATMs: from 26% (67 out 254 assessed settlements in both rounds) in May 2023 (Round 10) to 22% (n=57/254) in June/July 2023 (Round 11).
- In relation to market accessibility, the situation was reportedly largely ‘under control’, with KIs in 73% (n=204/281) of the assessed settlements reporting that people were able to access markets to purchase goods in the 14 days prior to data collection.

The report shows 88 per cent of people surveyed in Ukraine do not have enough money to cover their living expenses. Only a third reported being satisfied with their current living conditions, with 31 per cent being forced to share a bedroom with another family and 43 per cent not knowing how long they will be able to stay in their current accommodation.

As the war shows no sign of abating, Ukrainians are relying on humanitarian assistance, government support and savings to supplement lost or irregular income. With people coping with trauma, living in precarious circumstances and unable to afford adequate housing, the charity warns of a significant risk of a rise in homelessness and people sleeping rough in Ukraine this winter.

Targeted cash transfers will increase as 73 per cent of people cited cash as the highest priority need and the most useful form of assistance across all locations.
One third (31%) of respondents were found to have inadequate food consumption, defined by a poor (7%) or border-line (24%) food consumption score.

Nine in ten respondents (88%) reported relying on a food consumption-based coping strategy at least once during the week prior to the data collection.

The majority (82%) of respondents reported adopting at least one livelihood coping strategy during the month prior to the data collection.

In terms of economic vulnerability, the majority (73%) of respondents have monthly expenditures per capita below the Minimum Expenditure Basket.

The purpose of this report is to identify the needs, opportunities, and challenges of IDPs in terms of employment and economic integration. The report will provide relevant recommendations for related parties to improve the situation, which will facilitate further advocacy for IDPs in this important area.

The healthcare system in Ukraine remains functional but is highly overstretched. Increased prices of medicines and poverty have become major barriers to healthcare access in the country. One of the main barriers preventing people from fully meeting their healthcare needs is the cost of medicine.

Nearly one-third of adults surveyed by the WHO in December 2022 said they lacked sufficient funds to buy needed medicine, and 19% reported stopping their medication because of cost or inaccessibility. A reduction in healthcare expenditure has also been observed, particularly among women IDPs.

Levels of Anxiety and Depression have been increasing since 2021 in Ukraine, and women consistently report higher levels in both.

Personal security is low in women survivors of domestic violence, women in low income households, and women with disabilities.
This discussion paper is building on the workshop and aims to present humanitarian organizations with program design options for humanitarian cash programming aligning to the SP system in Ukraine. This paper begins with an overview of the situation in Ukraine, then moves to a brief description of structure of the SP system in Ukraine and a brief snapshot of the emergency cash transfers currently being delivered by humanitarian actors and the government. The last section provides a gap analysis of the current benefits across the lifecycle along with recommendations of how humanitarian actors can link with and fill the gaps of the cash benefits provided through Ukraine’s social insurance and social assistance systems.

The Collaborative Cash Delivery network (CCD) partnered with Ukraine Cash Consortium (UCC) to build on CCD’s work of mapping the SP system in Ukraine (a live filterable repository accessible here and an infographic shown in Figure 2) to advance in identifying alignment options for humanitarian cash assistance design programming within Ukraine’s SP system.

The aim of this document is to offer recommendations on the use of Cash for Protection interventions in Ukraine, including to create a common understanding among humanitarian partners, and to harmonize practices. This includes:

- Defining Cash for Protection & its objectives
- Scenarios for possible use of Cash for Protection
- Core Elements for using Cash for Protection
- Links between Cash for Protection & key protection activities
- Differences between Cash for Protection & Multi-Purpose Cash Assistance (MPCA)

Cash for Protection is a form of assistance where Cash and Voucher Assistance (CVA) is used as the modality to address individual and/or household-level protection needs, identified on a case-by-case basis. Cash for Protection is used to prevent, reduce or mitigate the impacts of risks, violence, abuse, coercion, exploitation and deprivation, as well as usage of negative coping mechanisms. Cases may include protection concerns related to right to life, physical safety, psychological well-being, liberty, dignity and other fundamental rights.

Cash for Protection is not time-bound, not conditional and not restricted given the complexities of protection risks facing individuals and/or households. Cash for Protection is not defined by what the cash is spent on, but rather on the fact that an individual assessment has been conducted, and there is a clear indication that cash will support protection outcomes.

If well-designed (i.e. protection sensitive targeting, programme design, strong referral component, etc.), cash for basic needs and/or sectoral cash can bring significant protection outcomes – however, this is more likely to be categorized as mainstreaming and integration, rather than as a Cash for Protection intervention. Evidence suggests that basic needs grants have a positive impact on protection, particularly when delivered alongside strong case management and/or other services, including in-kind assistance, Mental Health & Psycho-Social Support (MHPSS) and others.

The provision of Cash for Protection should never be intended to address generic socio-economic vulnerabilities; these can be addressed by multi-purpose cash assistance. Rather, the provision of Cash for Protection is driven by a causal link between a clearly identified protection concern and the analysis of how the cash assistance provided will produce a protection outcome by preventing, reducing, or mitigating the risks identified.

The table below summarises key differences between Cash for Protection and MPCA in Ukraine.

The report is based on 18,501 interviews conducted between October 2022 and September 2023 with refugees who arrived in these host countries during the first half of 2022, in order to identify trends in their access to rights over this period.

Key Findings

1. A complex landscape of access to rights in host countries emerges.
   Over time, refugees from Ukraine have encountered a contrast between positive trends impacting access to rights, including the effectiveness of temporary protection and swift access to employment markets, alongside notable hurdles including in accessing sustainable accommodation and healthcare. The overall picture is influenced by the situation in individual host countries and the sociodemographic characteristics of refugees.

2. Growing difficulties for refugees returning from short visits to Ukraine.
   The proportion of respondents who experienced challenges upon their return to host countries following visits to Ukraine tripled, from 6% in Q4 2022 to 18% in Q3 2023. These challenges include issues such as the revocation of legal status, suspension of social protection benefits, and obstacles when re-entering host countries after visiting Ukraine. Notably, a relatively high proportion of refugees in Poland experienced these challenges.

3. Reduction in the percentage of refugees with missing identity documentation, yet with ongoing challenges.
   The proportion of refugees reporting missing identity documents decreased in Q2 2023 and Q3 2023 compared to previous periods. Despite this decline, 23% of respondents still reported missing documentation in Q3 2023, mainly biometric passports, and an increasing number of refugees face difficulties obtaining identity documents in their host countries. Additionally, the necessity to collect documentation continues to drive back-and-forth movements between host countries and Ukraine.

4. Reduced access to key rights amongst refugees with specific needs.
   Over time, households with individuals who have specific needs - such as older persons, persons with disabilities, and those with serious medical conditions – report lower levels of access to various rights, including identity documentation, long-term housing, healthcare, and employment. This trend highlights a worsening vulnerability among these groups as displacement persists.

Key recommendations

- UNHCR recommends against the reduction of support to host countries, host communities and the refugee community.
- UNHCR recommends that refugees' legal status and associated rights in host countries are unaffected by a visit to Ukraine lasting less than three months.
- UNHCR recommends continued efforts to address administrative or legal barriers which hinder refugees’ access to documentation services.
- UNHCR recommends further support for the most vulnerable to access their rights.

- ACAPS estimates that several thousand refugees from Ukraine benefitting from temporary protection (TP) status in Poland have lost this status without meeting legal criteria for its revocation.
- The loss of TP status means that the duration of temporary residence in Poland is altered (typically – shortened to max. 90 days) and refugees from Ukraine lose the right to universal family benefits, free healthcare, and the right to work without a work permit.

Cash updates
UNHCR - Guidance Note: Cash-based support for most vulnerable refugees from Ukraine in Poland for the winter season 2023/2024 (link)

Transfer Value:
- The recommended transfer value remains at the same level as during the previous winter, that is 1000 PLN per person, to a maximum of 3000 PLN per household.
- It is recommended to pay the total amount in one off lump-sum transfer. The transfer value will encompass the additional needs for the winter season and is anticipated to be distributed within the year 2023, from October to December, as a one-off assistance.
- It is recommended to distribute the funds at the beginning of the winter season to allow beneficiaries to better prepare for the coming winter. However, organizations have the flexibility to provide assistance between January and March 2024 based on their operational circumstances.

Targeting and eligibility criteria:
- Older Persons
- Separated children
- Persons with disabilities
- Caretakers of persons with disabilities
- People with serious medical conditions or chronic disease
- People at risk of eviction/homelessness (including in collective shelters)
- Refugees without legal status, as well as undocumented persons
- Pregnant & lactating women
- Single parents excluded from labour market due to caretaking obligations

Targeting and eligibility criteria:
It is recommended to identify the most vulnerable refugees based on the “Poland Vulnerability and Targeting Framework”, prioritizing HHs with intersectional vulnerabilities based on the categories on the right:

1000 PLN
per person, to a maximum of 3000 PLN per household.

  - IFRC to share their cash for rent guidance with partners.
  - UNHCR to check with Protection WG on the cash for protection and needs by partners on their programming through CWG’S technical support.
  - UNHCR to follow up with MSNA results related to cash, and for health to support IRC’s assessment. IRC to share their assessment.

IRC PDM results (as reported in CWG 20 Sept. 2023 meeting minutes (link))

- Only 33% of all participants reported that they could cover all their basic needs. - 46% of participants reported that they have other unmet needs (not necessarily specified as basic needs). The ones cited most often are healthcare, medicines, and money for housing (rent). The key limitations to meeting these needs are limited language proficiency and disability/health limitations.
- On average, 67% of received cash was spent to cover basic needs, which corresponds to 2,786 PLN on average.
- Rent or shelter: 44% of received cash was spent to cover rent, which corresponds to 2008 PLN.

NRC - Protection Monitoring Report Poland (April - June 2023) (link)

This report provides an overview of the protection needs and risks refugees from Ukraine coming to Poland after February 24, 2022 are facing. The data analyzed in this report were collected during the Protection Monitoring (PM) conducted by the IRC in April, May, and June 2023. During this period, the Protection Monitoring Team of the IRC in Poland interviewed a total of 274 adult displaced people in Warsaw and Katowice region.

Assessments

Poland Interagency Multi-sector Needs Assessment - Results Overview (October 2023) (link) - Jobs, healthcare and housing among main concerns of refugees from Ukraine, survey finds [EN/PL] (link)

The Interagency Multi-Sector Needs Assessment was conducted among over 5,600 households throughout the country in July and August 2023, in order to inform the Interagency 2024 RRP.

- 82% of HHs have reported unmet need(s)
- A lack of sufficient sources of income and problems with access to employment was most frequently mentioned as a need (by 32 percent), followed by limited access to health care (27 percent) and problems with access to housing (23 percent).

- “This survey makes clear that, notwithstanding the exemplary response of Poland, many vulnerable refugees still require support,”
- More than a third of respondents said there were protection risks for children. They said children were vulnerable to neglect, psychological violence, abuse and sexual violence.

NRC - Too few places to feel safe. A snapshot of Ukrainian youth in Warsaw (link)

We asked young Ukrainians (aged 14-19) living in Warsaw to tell us what life has been like for them as refugees over the last 18 months.

- While many are looking with hope towards the future, the uncertainty of the future makes them feel anxious and powerless.
- Main findings are: Youth need access to safe spaces and youth centres / Youth need social connections and emotional support / Youth need income now
Study findings confirm that older Ukrainian refugees have good access to the one-off cash assistance provided to all Ukrainian refugees by the Polish government and universal state family benefits, such as child support. However, access to social protection mechanisms for people who cannot work due to age, disability, or difficult financial situations, was found to be more troublesome.

Accommodation remains one of the most significant long-term challenges for older Ukrainian refugees in Poland.

Many older Ukrainian refugees require medical attention and facilitated access to the Polish healthcare system.

Lack of information and language barriers are significant challenges in ensuring that older Ukrainian refugees can access services and social inclusion activities.

The mental health and psychosocial wellbeing of older Ukrainian refugees emerge as a key concern.

Top four needs reported at the moment of the interview: cash support (17%), medical needs (12%), job placement (12%) and housing (11%).

Top needs at the time of interview: health services (10%), financial support (9%), medicine (8%), food (6%) and personal safety (5%). 34% of respondents did not report any needs.

The assessment demonstrates that refugee children and caregivers from Ukraine feel generally safe in their host countries and enjoy, for the most part, access to a range of services. Yet many continue to face significant challenges as result of their displacement.

In Czech Republic (58%), Poland (54%), and Slovakia (51%) most refugees were working either in the host country or remotely in Ukraine or other countries, compared to Germany (16%), where households were largely dependent on government assistance.

During qualitative interviews, caregivers in Poland and Romania explained that a lack of appropriate childcare options and the language barrier were significant obstacles that would prevent them from finding employment. The assessment also shows that refugees spent most (44%) of their monthly expenses on food and beverages. Only in Poland, households spent more than a quarter of their expenses on rent. The cost burden of paying for accommodation was also highlighted by service providers during the qualitative interviews in Poland.

HelpAge, PCPM - "Everyone has their own story, but it hurts us all the same" Learning from the experiences of older Ukrainian refugees in Poland (EN/PL)
The Government of Poland leads the refugee response, complemented by activities of humanitarian organizations. The work of the humanitarian organizations which are part of the refugee response is coordinated through the Refugee Coordination Model (RCM).

Since March 2022, the RCM has been adopted to respond to the sudden influx of refugees from Ukraine. In Poland, the RCM is coordinated through the Inter-Sector Coordination Group (ISCG). The RCM facilitates interventions that are in line with government priorities while maximizing resource complementarity and impact. At the national level, the ISCG in Poland consists of the sectors as outlined on this page. Additionally, several working groups and networks are reporting to the ISCG. Taking a localized approach, aside of the national structure, inter-agency Refugee Coordination Fora (RCF) are established in Mazowieckie (Warsaw), Malopolskie (Krakow), Lubelskie (Lublin) and Podkarpackie (Rzeszow).

The RCM maximizes opportunities for cross-fertilization in the implementation of the Refugee Response Plan 2023 through the ISCG and RCF architecture, enabling participating organizations to build on tangible achievements made in 2022.

Following the MPCA, the focus of the cash-based intervention shifted towards Winterization, in order to mitigate the adverse impact of a harsh winter, worsened by a general rise in prices, especially energy prices. The Winterization Cash Top-up assistance which added up to 653 RON per person, was released to 19,000 individuals. This assistance pack was provided in one instalment to eligible households between December 2022 and March 2023.

- 91% of HHs reported spending the assistance on Food, 59% on Hygiene items, 57% on health costs
- In terms of living conditions, 44% reported a 'slight' positive impact, 24% 'moderate,' 23% 'significant,' and 9% 'not at all.'
- For reduced stress, 37% experienced a 'slight' reduction, 29% 'moderate,' 24% 'significant,' and 10% 'not at all.'
- For reduced financial burden, 41% felt a 'slight' effect, 27% 'moderate,' 23% 'significant,' and 9% 'not at all.'

General updates

The CWG is seeking co-leadership from the Bulgarian Government’s Ministry of Labor and Social Policy.

Updates from UNHCR’s one-off cash for protection assistance, PDM report (June 2023):

- The majority of UNHCR cash allowance was allocated on food expenses, constituting 90% of the total expenditures.
- Over 90% of the participants successfully found the items or services they needed and were satisfied with their quality. Additionally, a majority of respondents noted a recent surge in the prices.
- Nearly 40% of all respondents indicated that UNHCR’s Cash Assistance has significantly alleviated the financial strain on their household.
- Approximately 40% of all respondents reported that they managed to meet half of their basic needs, 30% of them met less than half and nearly 4% stated that their needs have not been met at all.
- Approximately 25% of the participants indicated inability to afford health care expenses. Food emerged as one of the primary basic needs that respondents admitted unable to meet.

UNHCR new cash for protection program started in July 2023

UNHCR’s cash for protection program will continue to implement categorical targeting, prioritizing households with specific needs (single parents, older person at risk, persons with disabilities and/or chronic illness, etc.), unable to meet basic needs.

- Eligible households include individual/household registered under Temporary Protection, those seeking or granted International Protection status as well as stateless persons undergoing the SDP or granted statelessness status in Bulgaria.
- The transfer values are revised to be aligned with the Bulgarian Government monthly financial assistance program and will be determined based on household composition. Similarly, to the program, a corresponding percentage for the group to which the persons belong to will be applied to a support base (30% of poverty line).
- The assistance follows a multi-transfer approach for four months. UNHCR and partners will enhance complementary inclusion support to assisted households to help their access to various social protection schemes and inclusion activities.
- UNHCR and IFRC will be providing winterization cash support. Transfer value is aligned with Bulgarian government heating assistance for the 2023 - 2024 winter period.

1. UNHCR – Quaterly Inter-Agency Hungary Snapshot, January to September 2023 (link)
2. UNHCR - Basic Needs Working Group Meeting Minute (link)
A planning workshop for the 2024 Refugee Response Plan (RRP) gathered 24 organizations among UN agencies and international and national NGOs to collect lessons learned and priorities for the 2024 refugee response in Hungary. These are the key findings presented by the different thematic groups and discussed in plenary. Below are the highlights for Cash-Based Interventions

Cash-Based interventions (CBI)
Protection Expertise: Tailoring CBI to address the needs of vulnerable groups, especially individuals with special needs, demonstrates the importance of integrating protection expertise into CBI initiatives.

Targeting Vulnerable Groups:
There is room for improvement in targeting vulnerable groups with protection expertise to ensure they receive the assistance they need.

2024 priorities (for CBI):
- Precise Targeting: Improving the precision of targeting for assistance is crucial to ensure that aid reaches those who need it most.
- Inclusive Approach: Taking an inclusive approach, especially for individuals with specific needs, ethnic minorities, and people with disabilities, is essential. Focus on those who face challenges in accessing technology and consider a longer-term and sustainable approach to CBI.
- Increased Transfer Values: Addressing the inadequacy of transfer amounts is a priority, particularly for individuals with disabilities. This should be closely linked to post-distribution monitoring.
- Referral Pathways: Strengthening referral pathways among different organizations is vital. Establish stronger links between cash interventions and community outreach and engagement, with active involvement of Refugee-Led Organizations and Community-Based Organizations.
