Global HLP AOR Newsletter
November 2020

Dear Members of the Housing, Land, and Property Area of Responsibility,

We hope you are all safe and healthy in these challenging times.

This month we update you on new work on the links between COVID-19 and security of tenure, highlight the inclusion of HLP activities within the newly released CERF life-saving criteria, and share a range of events, opportunities and resources relevant to HLP, whether you work in protection, shelter, camp and site management, WASH, durable solutions or the Nexus, or maybe all of the above! Suggestions, comments and feedback are always very welcome - please do get in touch.

The linkages between COVID-19 and the security of tenure of renters and occupants of informal sites are well-established. A new and groundbreaking peer-reviewed study from researchers at Harvard University (among others) shows that “evictions lead to significant increase in infections from COVID-19”, and that “eviction moratoriums and show that policies to stem evictions are a warranted and important component of COVID-19 control.”
The HLP AoR has been developing and sharing guidance to design responses to this crisis since April (including templates for moratoria), which remain stored on the HLP AoR’s Eviction and Relocation’s Toolbox webpage.

We are pleased to share with you two new guidance documents which were produced through the collective efforts of the HLP AoR’s Evictions and Relocations Interest Group!

- The first document clarifies Key Definitions and Concepts for Eviction Programming.

- The second document provides Operational Guidance for protection actors who are faced with situations where evictions are unavoidable, in order to design interventions to mitigate impacts and to ideally reduce the chance of recurrence.

InterAction has launched a contest to highlight exemplary “Results-Based-Protection” projects (which include Gender-Based Violence; Child Protection; Mine Action; and Housing, Land, and Property).

The top three examples will receive InterAction’s “RBP Good Practice” award, will be featured on InterAction’s website, and will be widely disseminated among NGOs, donors, and other actors around the world. It is an opportunity for your amazing work to get the attention it deserves!

Submissions to the contest can be made in English, French, or Spanish! All submissions are due December 15th, 2020!
Central Emergency Response Fund - Revised Life-Saving Criteria, now with added HLP!

The newly released CERF life-saving criteria affirms the centrality of protection in the purpose of humanitarian outcomes and amongst the 26 lifesaving protection activities adopted and eligible for funding submissions includes Housing Land and Property. On page 5, the criteria states,

Housing, Land and Property Rights: CERF encourages UN agencies and partners that before any establishment or rehabilitation of camps, shelters and other constructions begins for protection and humanitarian assistance purposes, proper due diligence is conducted to avoid creating or exacerbating existing conflicts, and that people’s rights to shelter in camps, informal settlements or other locations, depending on the operational context are secure. Similarly, other activities, in particular agricultural assistance, should consider housing, land and property rights.

And, activities eligible for CERF funding, now include HLP (page 17):

Sector: Protection - House, Land and Property
Activities: Provision of emergency support to address the humanitarian impact of forced evictions, land and resource grabs or other forms of dispossession
Key Considerations (eligibility etc): Eligibility for CERF funding dependent on specific context of humanitarian emergency. Activities should aim to reduce risks of exposure to GBV and other threats of violence and must enhance immediate and direct access to shelter and food security.

Afghanistan and HLP

The Afghanistan HLP Task Force and the HLP AoR hosted a webinar on Gender and Land Rights in Afghanistan. This was a fascinating discussion looking at different ways to strengthen women’s rights and access to land, both in the Afghanistan context and also at the global level.

We are pleased to share two new resources developed by the Afghanistan HLP Task Force:

- A Brief Guide to Women's Land Rights in Afghanistan
- Jointly published with the FSAC - Integrating HLP and Food Security and Agriculture Cluster (FSAC) Programming at the humanitarian-development-peace Nexus: Urban Agriculture for Sustainable IDP and returnee Settlements in Afghanistan

Look out for more upcoming webinars in the coming weeks and months...

As always, please see below for this month’s Featured Resources of interest to HLP AoR members - please share far and wide!

Remember

The HLP AoR exists to support you. Please do get in touch if you have questions, are in need of technical support, interested to learn how others have approached a particular challenge, or just need to talk through the situation you are in. The AoR can gather experts with in-depth experience in order to help you navigate a particular issue. In these times it is essential we rely on one another. Please do indicate specific areas of HLP interest here in our (very) short survey. Thank you!

Warm regards,

The Global HLP AOR team.
