Dear Members of the Housing, Land, and Property Area of Responsibility,

We hope you are all safe and healthy in these challenging times.

This month we focus on the Global Protection Cluster Forum and we highlight some fascinating thematic sessions of interest to the members of the AoR. And remember - the HLP AoR hosts the session on the 30th September - ‘Due Diligence, What Next? HLP implications for Protection in Practice: Due Diligence and Coordination between CCCM, Shelter and Protection’ - find out more and register here!

Beyond the forum, we are pleased to share the recently released (hot off the press!) animation from the Global Shelter Cluster on HLP in emergency contexts - it’s a great overview of the key issues and available in six languages!

We would like to highlight the publication of a fascinating series of briefs on Land, Housing and Covid-19, drawing on the series of webinars co-hosted by the AoR in May of this year.

And, as always, we are pleased to share our monthly selection of Featured Resources relevant to HLP.
The GPC Annual Forum - online for 2020 - kicked off at the beginning of September. There is a fascinating selection of events looking at issues across the spectrum of protection. Being online means that the thematic sessions are open to all - so please do sign up and join in what should be useful, enlightening and stimulating sessions. You can see the full range of sessions on the GPC website, though here we highlight sessions that may be of particular interest to AoR members and colleagues:

- Human Rights Engagement and How We Can Practically Use it in the Cluster Context – 16 September 2020
- Strengthening Protection of Civilians efforts by Protection Clusters and Operational Actors – 23 September 2020
- GBV Risk Mitigation Integration in Protection Work – 28 September 2020

Housing and Land during COVID-19 - In May, the HLP AOR co-convened a webinar and an online discussion series on Housing and Land during COVID-19. The Land Portal prepared some “snapshots” of the webinars on Women’s Housing and Land Rights during COVID, and Evictions during and after COVID-19.

This month, we proudly released the key learnings from these events into a series of briefs.

One of the key takeaways from the evictions event was that moratoria can play important roles in securing the tenure of renters and occupants during COVID-19. Due to advocacy by the HLP Working Group in Somalia, the city of Baidoa passed a moratorium on evictions in April 2020 in response to the COVID-19 pandemic. Combined with community monitoring, sensitization, and outreach, zero eviction incidents were identified in the following months. These efforts successfully prevented the eviction of 5,616 IDPs living in informal settlements in the city, who were facing eviction risks before the moratoria was put into place. Several communities have since been able to negotiate extensions for their lease agreements. The moratorium and prevention efforts in this city alone have saved nearly a 0.5 million US dollars which would have been otherwise deployed to mitigate the effects of these evictions. We will share the link to an upcoming report on this as soon as it is available.

Also on the theme of Covid-19, please see the HLP Due Diligence Guidelines for COVID19 Health Programming in the Rohingya Refugee Response, jointly produced by the Cox’s Bazar HLP Task Force, Protection Working Group, Site Management sector and Shelter/NFI sector.
