

MOZAMBIQUE

On 14 March 2019, Tropical Cyclone Idai made landfall near Beira City, Sofala province, causing human losses, massive destruction of infrastructure and houses, and significant internal displacement. The disaster exacerbated pre-existing vulnerabilities in the affected areas. A total of 1.85 million people have been affected.

As of 1 April, over 146,000 internally displaced persons (IDPs) sought refuge in 155 temporary sites across four provinces (Sofala, Manica, Zambezia, Tete). Many IDPs have since returned home, while others were relocated to permanent sites allocated by the Government of Mozambique (GoM). The last temporary accommodation centres in Beira were closed in June 2019. As of 15 August, 16,250 families have relocated to 68 resettlement sites.

Key Protection Activities

1. Systematic Protection Monitoring in resettlement sites to inform advocacy for improved protection response with relevant humanitarian and Government partners.
2. Delivery of life-saving assistance including core relief items and emergency shelter for over 10,000 displaced families.
3. Integrated Protection Desks where Community-based Protection Focal Points, comprising a pool of trained volunteers from affected populations, act as link between the community and service providers and conduct awareness-raising activities.
4. Support to the establishment and strengthening of community structures to improve safety, self-reliance, and protection through community mobilization.
5. In cooperation with relevant national and humanitarian actors, support to the establishment of response mechanisms to protection incidents, including capacity development of relevant national authorities.
6. Co-lead of the Protection Cluster with the Provincial Directorate for Gender, Children and Social Action (DPGCAS), with focus on supporting the most vulnerable groups, including through the Child Protection and Gender-Based Violence Sub-Clusters and Disability Working Group.

KEY PROTECTION CONCERNS

1. Insufficient availability of basic facilities in resettlement sites and precarious shelter conditions, especially in hard-to-reach areas, increasing risks particularly for children, women, the elderly and persons with disabilities.
2. Lack of or insufficient community structures to enable effective community participation and support community engagement in their own protection, safety and security.
3. Lack of sustainable livelihood opportunities in resettlement sites, especially for persons formerly living in cities, which can lead to family separation.
4. Challenges concerning access to education due to the limited capacity of schools to absorb additional children; distance from schools; lack of materials; and lack of documentation, leading to risks such as child labour, family separation or early marriage.
5. People with disabilities disproportionately affected, especially persons with mobility restrictions.
6. Destruction, unavailability or loss of civil documentation, leading to challenges in accessing basic services, such as education and housing, land and property (HLP) rights.
7. Challenges related to women's access to HLP documentation.
8. Risks of tensions with host communities over aid distribution, service accessibility and pre-existing livelihood activities in resettlement sites.

RESPONSES BY THE PROTECTION CLUSTER

- Updated Protection Cluster Strategy until 30 September 2019 that re-aligns activities from emergency response to early recovery and enhances implementation monitoring.
- Emergency shelter and core relief items (such as blankets, jerry cans, buckets, mosquito nets, kitchen sets and solar lamps) distributed.
- Protection Monitoring Reports issued and shared at Inter-Cluster level, especially regarding hard-to-reach areas in Sofala Province.
- Systematic Protection Monitoring conducted in Dondo, Nhamatanda and Buzi to support advocacy and improved protection response.
- Enhanced coordination of community based protection activities and integrated Protection Desk managed by Acção Social and Protection Focal Points in Dondo, Buzi and Nhamatanda Districts providing affected populations information about on-site services, counselling and referral to appropriate response mechanisms.
- Child Friendly Spaces (CFS) and Women Friendly Spaces (WFS) established in resettlement sites to provide for safe places for activities aimed to help re-establishing a sense of normalcy.
- Working on establishing response mechanisms to protection incidents in resettlement sites in partnership with relevant national authorities such as the national police (PRM) and the National Disaster Management Institute (INGC).

Gaps and Constraints

- Lack of resources to ensuring basic support and facilities for displaced populations in return and resettlement sites, contributing to heightened protection risks for affected populations, particularly the most vulnerable.
- Significant underfunding of UNHCR, limiting expansion of protection monitoring and other services, especially in hard-to-reach areas.
- Need to support the Ministry of Gender, Children and Social Affairs (MGCAS) with adequate resources to scale-up service response for the most vulnerable groups.
- Need to work on providing sustainable solutions as response moves towards the recovery phase.
